

CLIMATE ACTION NEWS

October 2021

A note from our President

Greetings,

We are honored and excited to announce Eduardo Piquero, CEO of MÉXICO2, has joined the Reserve Board of Directors. Eduardo's experience in international and Mexican carbon pricing instruments and policy spans over 15 years. During this time of growth and opportunity for the North American and international carbon markets, Eduardo's strong expertise and thought-leadership bring depth and breadth to the Reserve's mission to develop, promote and support innovative, credible market-based climate change solutions that benefit economies, ecosystems and society.

There is no time to waste on the road to climate solutions, and Eduardo joining our Board exemplifies how the global effort on climate change requires collaboration in order to scale solutions and accelerate action. In support of global collaborative efforts, the Climate Action Reserve and The Climate Registry are once again co-hosting a joint COP delegation that brings together bipartisan leaders from US states, corporations, NGOs, and tribal nations to highlight subnational climate policy, carbon markets, and climate innovation and action.

North American climate leadership is sprouting across governments and economic sectors - but much more ambition and action is required to shift successfully to a decarbonized economy in support of the Paris Agreement. The road to averting climate catastrophe and achieving net-zero or negative emissions is not completely known, but the crucial first steps on this road are clear and there is no excuse for inaction. At COP26, we expect to engage in discussions and strategies to ramp up carbon markets, healthy and resilient communities, clean energy jobs, urban mobility, carbon removal technologies, net-zero goal setting and pathways, enabling innovation, decarbonizing transportation, regional collaborations, natural and working lands, climate finance and sustainable investment and optimizing policies at national and subnational levels.

Given the uncertainty around COVID, we understand many may not be able to travel to COP to participate in such discussions. We are planning to record and share Reserve side events virtually so that you can join us virtually for what is expected to be a landmark COP.

Kind regards,

Craig Ebert
President

Eduardo Piquero, CEO of MÉXICO2, elected to the Reserve Board of Directors

On October 6, the Climate Action Reserve Board of Directors elected Eduardo Piquero to a Board Director role for the organization. As a leader in international carbon pricing instruments and policy, Eduardo brings exceptional experience and knowledge to help guide the organization in its Mexican expansion and to advise on expansion beyond North American borders.

Eduardo's experience in international and Mexican carbon pricing instruments and policy spans over 15 years. He currently serves as the CEO of MÉXICO2, a Mexican Stock Exchange company, where he oversees the development of environmental markets, including carbon and green bonds markets.
